

Hi MLP Families:

Thank you for your patience and understanding this week with our switch to Remote Learning for our students.

Based on the quarantines that will be over and staff who will have recovered from COVID, we will be able to return to In-Person learning as of Monday, January 10th. Please remain flexible as students will need to be sent home to quarantine and learn remotely during the upcoming weeks.

The county superintendents met virtually with the Health Department and County Education Department yesterday to inform us that the state of NJ is moving into the red, or the very high rate of transmission. That said, districts are still not allowed to permit families to choose remote learning for their children. We will be enforcing all other protections to stay safe at school such as using masks, social distancing, and increased cleaning. Stay tuned for some new guidelines that are being recommended such as increased testing for staff and students.

SNOW UPDATE:

We are not having a snow day tomorrow. School districts are not permitted to have a remote day because of snow. We are only allowed to have remote learning due to COVID. If this week is any indication of what is to come this winter, I would like to try and preserve our snow days.

Thanks everyone!

Dr. Magan
